

What holds the atoms in a molecule of water together?

- A Hydrogen bonds.
- B Single covalent bonds.
- C Double covalent bonds.
- D Ionic bonds.

Water is held together by single covalent bonds between the hydrogen and oxygen atoms.

Answer B.

Starr C'02'12 2002-10-23