

Which of these sugars is the building block for starch, cellulose, and glycogen?

A Glucose.

B Fructose.

C Sucrose.

The three most common polysaccharides are all composed solely of glucose subunits.

Answer A.

Starr·C·03·02 2002-10-23