

What type of reaction forms one large molecule from two or more smaller ones?

A cleavage

B rearrangement

C condensation

D electron transfer

Through condensation, two molecules bond covalently to form a larger molecule. Water is a byproduct of condensation reactions.

Answer C.

Starr C'03'06 2002-10-23