

What type of organic compound is the most abundant component of all cell membranes?

A glycoprotein

B amino acid

C nucleic acid

D phospholipid

Phospholipids arranged in a lipid bilayer make up the bulk of all cell membranes.

Answer D.

Starr·C·03·18 2002-10-23