

Which term describes the process whereby the production of a molecule triggers a cellular change that shuts down further production of that molecule?

- A phosphorylation
- B catalysis
- C feedback inhibition
- D chemical equilibrium

Cells use feedback inhibition to control the concentrations of substances required for survival.

Answer C.

Starr C'05'18 2002-10-23