

Where in a eukaryotic cell would you find the bulk of the DNA?

A Golgi body

B chloroplast

C mitochondrion

D central vacuole

E endoplasmic reticulum

F nucleus

In eukaryotic cells, the DNA is enclosed in the nucleus. The mitochondria also contain a small amount of DNA.

Answer F.

Starr C'12'06 2002-10-23