

What region of the lactose operon does the repressor protein bind to when lactose levels are low?

A the regulator gene

B the promoter

C the operator

When lactose levels are low, the repressor protein binds to the operator region of the operon.

Answer C.

Starr C'14'02 2002-10-23