

What plant hormone is redistributed within a plant to cause the bending of plants in response to light?

A gibberellin

B auxin

C cytokinin

D ethylene

E abscisic acid

Auxin diffuses to the cells on the shaded side of the stem, causing them to elongate and bending the stem toward the light.

Answer B.

Starr C 27 15 2002-10-23