

Most of the earth's atmosphere consists of nitrogen gas (N_2). Each molecule of nitrogen gas consists of two atoms that share three pairs of electrons. What holds a molecule of nitrogen gas together?

- A a hydrogen bond
- B a single covalent bond
- C a triple covalent bond
- D an ionic bond

Atoms share three electrons to form a triple covalent bond.
Answer C.