

Which of these sugars is the building block for starch, cellulose, and glycogen?

- A Glucose.
- B Fructose.
- C Sucrose.

---

The three most common polysaccharides are all composed solely of glucose subunits.

Answer A.