

What is the principal component of cell membranes?

- A Glycoproteins.
- B Phospholipids.
- C Amino acids.
- D Nucleic acids.

Phospholipids are the most abundant components in cell membranes.
Answer B.