

Which of the following takes place during the light-independent reactions of photosynthesis?

- A photolysis
- B carbon dioxide fixation
- C oxygen production
- D ATP formation

In the light-independent reactions, carbon dioxide becomes affixed to a carbon compound that can enter the Calvin-Benson cycle.

Answer B.