

What are agents that increase the risk of heritable alterations in the structure of DNA called?

- A polymerases
  - B codons
  - C mutagens
  - D ligases
-

Examples of mutagens include ultraviolet radiation from the sun and sunlamps, some viruses, X-rays, and many chemicals, such as the hydrocarbons in cigarette smoke.

Answer C.