

By what process do cancer cells migrate from their tissue of origin and form tumors elsewhere in the body?

- A gene amplification
- B metastasis
- C negative feedback control
- D mutagenesis

---

This arteriogram shows a tangle of blood vessels around a cancer. Cancer cells can break free of the tissue and move through these vessels, spreading cancer throughout the body.

Answer B.