

Which of the following processes could be used to determine whether a particular man is this child's father?

- A reverse transcription
- B RFLP analysis
- C genetic engineering
- D polymerase chain reaction (PCR)

Paternity suits can be resolved by comparing a child's DNA fingerprints with those of the disputed parent.

Answer B.