

Consider the wing of a butterfly, the wing of a bird, and the leg of a crab. Which of these are analogous structures?

- A Bird wing and butterfly wing.
- B Bird wing and crab leg.
- C Butterfly wing and crab leg.

Analogous structures in distantly related lineages that appear similar because they serve similar functions.

Answer A.