

Secondary xylem and phloem arise from the

- A cuticle.
- B vascular cambium.
- C epidermis.
- D endodermis.

Cells formed on the outside surface of the vascular cambium become secondary phloem and cells formed to the inside become secondary xylem.

Answer B.