

False solutions that result from multiplying both sides of an equation by a variable are called _____ solutions.

A) true

B) false

C) correct

D) extraneous

False solutions that result from multiplying both sides of an equation by a variable are called extraneous solutions.

Answer D

gfbj'06'07'07 2006-11-20