

If both sides of an inequality are multiplied by a _____ number, a new inequality is formed that has the same direction from the first.

- A) positive
- B) negative
- C) prime
- D) odd

If both sides of an inequality are multiplied by a positive number, a new inequality is formed that has the same direction from the first.

Answer A.

gfbi'07'01'15 2006-11-5