

A _____ is a correspondence between a set of input values and a set of output values, where each _____ value determines one _____ value.

A) function ... output ... input

B) function ... input ... output

C) equation ... output ... input

D) equation ... input ... output

A function is a correspondence between a set of input values and a set of output values, where each input value determines one output value.

Answer B

gfbj'08'04'09 2006-11-20