

If an equation is true for some values of its variable, but not all, it is called a(an) _____.

- A) solution
 - B) identity
 - C) contradiction
 - D) conditional equation
-

If an equation is true for some values of its variable, but not all, it is called a conditional equation.

Answer D.