

When the graphs of two equations in a system are different lines, the equations are called _____ equations.

- A) dependent
 - B) independent
 - C) related
 - D) linear
-

When the graphs of two equations in a system are different lines, the equations are called independent equations.

Answer B.